FALL 2004

ADVANCED SNOWBOARD FOOTWEAR

[+]

WELCOME

FALL, 2004

It was twenty-two years ago that I first started riding. With my Sorel boots duct-taped for support and a board with fins instead of edges, I slid my way down my local prohibited mountains! Through my passion, drive and the tons of hours and years I put in on the hills, I became one of the lucky few to become sponsored and travel the world for a top snowboard brand.

Within the past decade, I've tried every product out there to give me a competitive edge. For me, snowboarding boots have always been the most important function of riding—they are the direct connection from my body to my board. Whenever my boots have been uncomfortable or unfunctional, they've always made my day of riding one of the worst.

Today, I'm the proud product manager at ThirtyTwo, where it is our #1 goal to make sure that snowboarders of the world have the most comfortable and functional boots possible. This way, there is no excuse not to have the best riding experience every time you ride.

I can tell from years of experience that ThirtyTwo snowboarding boots are the most comfortable and functional ever created. With ThirtyTwo's many advancements in comfort and function, I guarantee that ThirtyTwo will continue to be the boot that sets the standards for the future of snowboarding.

The thing about ThirtyTwo that I enjoy the most is that I'm surrounded by a family of people who are passionate about snowboarding, skateboarding and living life to the fullest. After all these years in the industry, I've found a home with ThirtyTwo and I'm really excited to share the best snowboarding boots in the world with you.

Thanks for your support and keep on shreddin'!

SYSTEM G2™

New for 2004, System G2™ plays a critical role in the Forecast, 304 and TM-2 boot styles by providing unparalleled cushioning protection to the heel and forefoot during landings. System G2™ has been tested in our STI biomechanics lab and on snow for over a year now and the results prove that it protects your feet significantly better. System G2™ can be found in two different applications—in the heel with air bags, or full-length with EVA.

POST HARDWARE

The all-new POST hardware can be found on all ThirtyTwo boots. It is made of cast zinc, which is used for strength—especially in colder temperatures. The POST is designed to be used as a normal lace hook—or double-wrapped when a desired lace tension is reached—to relieve strenuous tension on the hands while lacing.

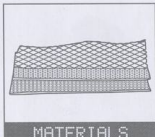

OUTSOLES

Outsoles are a critical part of a snowboarding boot. They provide the traction that enables us to hike icy pipes and traverse steep terrain. Directional tread and varying densities of rubber—in addition to additional bevel in the heel and toe—allow you to get the best grip possible.

MIDDLESOLES

Support versus dampening is the age-old struggle in a snowboard boot midsole. We've conducted multiple impact tests in controlled lab settings in order to identify the ideal balance between the two. By using multiple-density polyurethanes and shock dispersing foams, ThirtyTwo middlesoles provide the optimum in dampening without sacrificing support.

MATERIALS

For 2004, we have continued using abrasion-resistant synthetic and elastic materials that withstand cutting board edges, conform around the foot easily and look great. It is also important for us to make the most eco-friendly boot on the market by keeping our boots PVC-free and using recycled materials.

REINFORCEMENT

Materials such as Sulyfil® and Hynofil® are used in reinforcement for their consistent flex without breaking at cold temperatures. All reinforcement materials are injected into three-dimensional shapes so that they take on an anatomical shape.

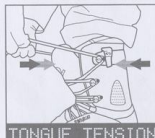

FLEX LEVELS

Every rider has a preference in boot stiffness. Medial or lateral, toe side or heel side, we take this into consideration in all of our boots—from the outsole to the liner—to make them perfectly balanced.

INNER CUFF

There are several variations of lacing systems in the ThirtyTwo line. All inner harnesses aid with overall lacing, support and general flex. For 2004, we have revised the pattern and added O-rings for easy one-pull tightening. These support systems wrap anatomically and comfortably around the instep, ankle and leg for the best result possible.

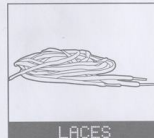

TONGUE TENSION

Found in the all-new 304, the Tongue Tension Strap is developed to offer a more secure top-of-boot fit. Used in conjunction with the Strap Guide and the Money Clip, the Tongue Tension System enables you to dial-in top-of-boot fit for better comfort and performance.

FOREFOOT LACING

Easy lacing has always been a problem for women. With the newly-designed forefoot lacing cuff found in the Vols, lacing is effortless. It offers a secure forefoot with easy one-pull tightening.

LACES

All laces are res-coated for waterproofing and durability. Several styles also come with an additional lace for a color switch or as a replacement.

BACKSTAY

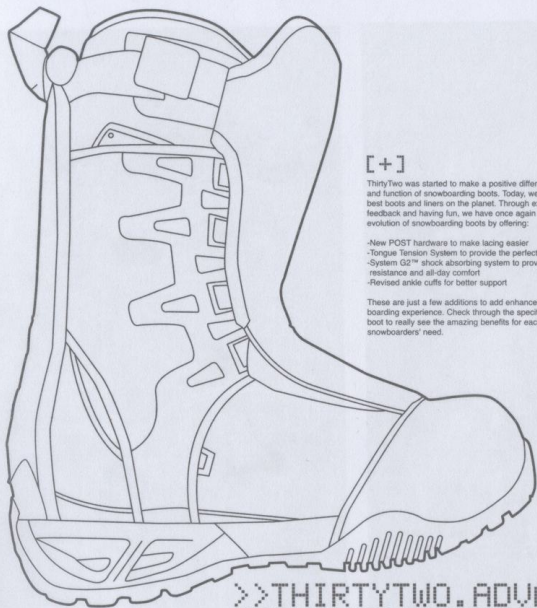

Whether it is high-frequency welded or stitched on, each backstay offers support and durability to the boot. Most backstays also have a texture that improves grip with the binding heel cup. An anatomical contour adds optimal fit between the boot and binding system.

WEIGHT

Several seasons ago, ThirtyTwo boots revolutionized the snowboard market by making the lightest boots. Even now, most companies can't even come close to the weight reduction that we've accomplished. For 2004, we continue to develop the lightest boots on the market.

THIRTYTWO ADVANCED

[+]

ThirtyTwo was started to make a positive difference in the comfort and function of snowboarding boots. Today, we boast having the best boots and liners on the planet. Through extensive testing, feedback and having fun, we have once again added to the evolution of snowboarding boots by offering:

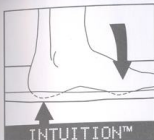

- New POST hardware to make lacing easier
- Tongue Tension System to provide the perfect tightness
- System G2™ shock absorbing system to provide impact resistance and all-day comfort
- Revised ankle cuffs for better support

These are just a few additions to add enhancement to your snowboarding experience. Check through the specific details on each boot to really see the amazing benefits for each snowboarders' need.

INTUITION™

ThirtyTwo boots use Intuition™ Ultrafoam liners, which is the industry leader in thermo-moldable EVA foam. It is superior in memory, resilience and impact dispersion—exactly the kind of foam that you want cushioning your feet.

CLOSURE

For 2004, we've made sure that every boot—including the Pylon—has its own closure system. All Level 1 and 2 liners have full lacing systems, which improve the fit and flex of the boot. Low-friction webbing and lace locks make it easier to get in and out of the boot in less time.

VELCRO™

Closure systems don't stop with lacing systems. On liner levels 3 and 4, we've added removable closures to improve energy transfer from heel to toe while riding.

<<< LINER

AGION™

Agion™ is an anti-bacterial lining treatment that can be found on all ThirtyTwo liners. The bacteria in your boots cause them to stink. Agion™ reduces boot odor by killing bacteria on contact so your boots will smell like roses all day.

MOLDED HEEL

Arch and heel support are critical when riding. The molded heel pad offers both a perimeter cradle to help reduce injury-causing excessive heel roll, as well as improved arch support to prevent foot fatigue. For 2004, we have made this piece removable by placing it under the liner in the bottom of the boot.

REINFORCEMENT

Each liner is reinforced with synthetic leather or PVC foam in strategic places for optimizing flex, comfort and fit. The reinforcement provides relief from hot spots like instep pressure, ankle bite and Achilles pinch.

MOLDING PRGM

ThirtyTwo is focused on fit. In order to communicate this message, we've invested a lot of our resources into developing a molding program for both our retailers and riders. We've added more molding information to the clinic video and continue to offer ThirtyTwo fit kits, heat stacks and convection ovens.

MATERIALS

We pick materials that have a very specific weight and elasticity to them so that they don't interfere with the natural outwearing and molding properties of the foam. Elastic net meshes give you optimal contact with the Intuition™ Ultrafoam® foam, improved molding results and added lightness.

HOLDING PROPERTIES

TECH VIDEO

Learn everything you need to know about molding liners, key features of boots and basic sales points in one simple, easy to use ThirtyTwo clinic video.

FIT KIT

Just like a car mechanic, you need to have the tools to get the job done. Each ThirtyTwo Fit Kit comes with two liners and eight different size toe caps: two small, two medium, two large and two extra large-enough for the whole family! But wait, there's more! You'll also receive your Fit Kit in a one-of-a-kind ThirtyTwo box. Think of it as free P.O.P.

HEAT STACKS

INCA EUU 8670000028

(EUU 8670000028)

No, it's not a pile of pancakes. The only way to mold your ThirtyTwo liners and get a semi-custom fit is with the Heat Stack. It's easy to use, and you won't even have to take the liners out of the boot. What more could you ask for? Okay, we'll throw in a short stack.

CONVECTION OVEN

STI

SOLE TECHNOLOGY INSTITUTE

The Sole Technology Institute (STI) is an organization we created to study the biomechanics of action sports. STI records and measures all of the stress your body goes through while jumping off huge objects during everyday snowboarding.

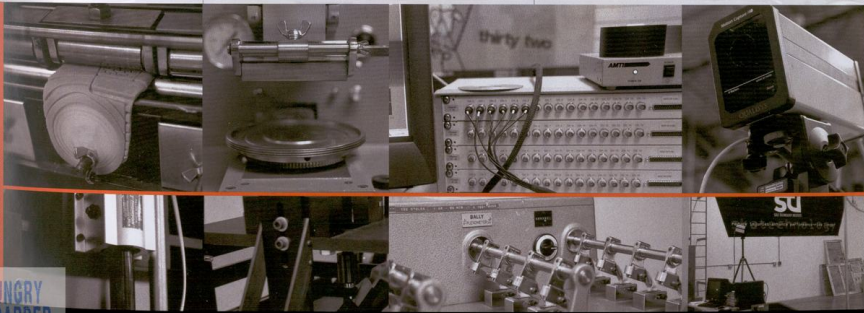

Whether we are researching new materials that will increase the life of our boots and shoes, determining the proper amount of forefoot flexibility and outsole traction that riders need, working on our new System G2™ shock absorbing system to provide just the right amount of cushioning for those flat landings, or discovering new ways to protect the ankles and knees from injury, STI is constantly working on and developing the highest performing action sports footwear and boot technology that will help protect your feet, let you ride longer and enjoy snowboarding even more.

Look for more technological advancements coming from STI in the future. For more information on STI, visit www.stilab.com.

System G2™ is available in the following ThirtyTwo boots:
